Japan Association for Geopolitical Research Annual Conference 2027

CALL FOR PAPERS

'Arrival of American Ships: Picture of a Gathering of Feudal Retainers' Toshu Shogetsu (1889)

Rethinking the Global Order:

Innovation, Disruption, and Paradigm Change in International Relations

10th–12th September, 2027 | Ryukoku University (Fukakusa Campus), Kyoto

The Japan Association for Geopolitical Research (JAGR) invites scholars and researchers from around the world to three days of presentations in Kyoto. As the international system grows increasingly unstable, the conference will examine what is driving the transformation of the global order, what new paradigms may emerge, and how states can respond. Topics of particular interest include the following, but all relevant papers will be considered:

- East Asian Tensions
- The Global Balance of Power
- International Law and Ethics
- Technology and A.I. in Security
- Security in the Indo-Pacific
- Conflicts in Ukraine & the Middle East
- Geoeconomics & International Trade
- Political Communication & Propaganda
