

Annual Issue from the Journal Global Policy

Global Policy: Next Generation

A multi-disciplinary, peer-reviewed journal providing a platform for PhD students and early career researchers to publish research on-par with the most rigorous of academic journals.

GP:NG establishes a platform for ECRs to engage with the wider community of both academia and policymaking by promoting their research through a variety of media.

WE OFFER GUIDANCE & MENTORING THROUGH THE PUBLISHING PROCESS

We want to bring to the fore ideas and research that are at the leading edge of policy work. We are looking for articles, policy insights and book reviews for our third edition.

Send your CV & abstract to next.generation@global-policy.com or reach out to us with any questions!

And for more information, visit our website: <https://www.globalpolicyjournal.com/global-policy-next-generation/next-generation>

We offer ECRs the opportunity to publish opinion pieces on their current research, areas of expertise, or issues that they feel need further analysis and exploration.
